UNIT 1

DEVISING THEATRE

SAMPLE ASSESSMENT MATERIALS

Stimulus materials for assessment in xxxx

INFORMATION AND ADVICE FOR CANDIDATES

You must choose one skill from the following list on which to be assessed:

- performing
- lighting design
- sound design
- set design (including props)
- costume and make-up design.

You must work in a group of between two and five performing candidates. Each group may also have up to four additional design candidates, each offering a different design skill from the list above.

The timings of the piece are based on the number of actors in the group and should be as follows:

Group of two actors:	5-10 minutes
Group of three actors:	7-12 minutes
Group of four actors:	9-14 minutes
Group of five actors:	11-16 minutes.

You must devise and realise a piece of theatre based on a stimulus following the instructions on the next two pages.

After the performance or design has been assessed by your teacher, you are not permitted to add to or amend the piece of theatre.

1. Devising

Choose one stimulus from the list below and devise a piece of theatre using the stimulus as a starting point. You must incorporate either the techniques of a theatre practitioner or the characteristics of a specific genre. You are advised to use between 4 and 6 clear techniques or characteristics in the piece.

Stimulus materials

(a) 'Youth is wasted on the young' George Bernard Shaw

(b) Christina's World (1948), Andrew Wyeth (The Museum of Modern Art, New York)
http://www.moma.org/collection/works?locale=en&utf8=%E2%9C%93&q=Christina's+World+%2B+Andrew+Wyeth&classifications=&date\_begin=Pre-1850&date\_end=2015&with\_images=1

(c) American Pie, Don Maclean

(d) The Closed Door.

You must produce a portfolio of supporting evidence which demonstrates how you researched, created and developed your ideas. This is a working record and you should therefore compile this during the process and edit it to ensure an appropriate focus.

The evidence should focus on three stages which are significant to the development of your devised piece of theatre. The three stages should demonstrate:

1. how you researched, created and developed your ideas in response to the chosen stimulus
2. how you incorporated ideas from your chosen practitioner or genre in the piece to communicate meaning
3. how you developed, amended and refined your ideas during the development of the devised piece.

For each stage, you must provide illustrative material (as listed below) and a commentary, which may include annotations on the illustrative material. The commentary for each stage should be approximately 250 words and total 750 to 900 words for the complete portfolio.

You may also produce your portfolio as a suitably edited blog (between 750 and 900 words), as an audio-visual recording, including the illustrative material, or as an audio commentary on the illustrative material. Audio and audio-visual portfolios should be between six and nine minutes.

Illustrative material may include any of the following:

- sketches
- photographs
- ground plans
- diagrams
- storyboards
- mood boards
- sections of script
- digital media, including brief recordings of sections of a rehearsal or material appropriate to the skill area, e.g., sound clips. These should be no longer than one minute.

You are reminded that your portfolio is intended to highlight the creative and developmental process of devising the piece of theatre. It is not intended to be a full record of the rehearsal period. You should therefore choose carefully the evidence which best supports the three main stages in the development of your piece of theatre.

2. Realisation

You must realise your piece of theatre. Performing candidates must interact with other performers and/or the audience for a minimum of five minutes.

Design candidates must realise the design fully in performance. As it is the design itself which is assessed, the technical equipment may be operated by someone else.

3. Evaluation

You must evaluate your final performance or design. Your evaluation will be written under supervised conditions and you will have 1 hour 30 minutes to complete it. You must indicate your chosen stimulus and chosen practitioner or genre at the start of the evaluation. There will be three main sections to your evaluation. You must:

1. analyse and evaluate either your interpretation of character/role or your interpretation of the extract in design
2. analyse and evaluate how either your own performance skills or your own design skills contributed to the effectiveness of the final performance
3. analyse and evaluate the final performance, including how effectively you fulfilled your initial aims and objectives (referring back to the stimulus and the practitioner/genre).

You may have access to two sides of A4 in bullet point notes when writing your evaluation. These notes must be handed in with the evaluation.

UNIT 1: Devising Theatre – Assessment grid for performing candidates (performance and supporting evidence)

- The appropriate band for each assessment objective should be established by determining which performance descriptor best reflects the candidate's performance
- The appropriate mark should then be established by determining the extent to which the candidate has met the criteria within the relevant band - completely met (upper part of band), mostly met (middle of band), partially met (lower part of band)
- The total marks for each column may reflect performance at different bands across the assessment objectives, for example, a candidate may achieve band 4 for AO1 (column 1) band 4 for AO1 (column 2) and band 5 for AO2
- It should be noted that the bands have been designed to assist the marking process by identifying individual levels of achievement and they do not correlate with grade boundaries
- AO1 is assessed through both the performance and the supporting evidence.

GCSE DRAMA

UNIT 3

INTERPRETING THEATRE

MARK SCHEME

GENERAL INFORMATION

Marking should be positive, rewarding achievement rather than penalising failure or omissions. The awarding of marks must be directly related to the criteria in this mark scheme. Examiners should use the generic assessment grid, where applicable, and the indicative content for each question when assessing a candidate's response.

For questions that allocate marks for points made, the mark scheme should be applied precisely. Marks should be awarded as indicated and no further sub-division made.

For banded mark schemes, the assessment grid should be considered in conjunction with the indicative content.

Band Descriptors

When awarding a mark, examiners should select the band that most closely describes the quality of the work being assessed.

- Where the candidate's work completely meets the descriptors, the highest mark should be awarded.
- Where the candidate's work mostly meets the descriptors, the most appropriate mark in the middle range should be awarded.
- Where the candidate's work partially meets the descriptors, the lowest mark should be awarded.

Examiners should use the full range of marks available and award full marks where appropriate.

Indicative Content

The mark scheme instructs examiners to reward valid alternatives where indicative content is suggested for an answer. Indicative content outlines some areas of the text/question candidates may explore in their responses. This is not a checklist for expected content or a 'model answer'. Where a candidate provides a response that contains aspects or approaches not included in the indicative content, examiners should use their professional judgement as drama specialists to determine the validity of the response/interpretation in light of the text and/or the question asked. All questions provide opportunities for candidates to make informed, independent responses, and such opportunities need to be upheld in the marking. Valid alternatives should be rewarded where deemed appropriate, in line with the skills outlined in the banded levels of response in the generic assessment grids.

- an explanation of how a thrust stage or a proscenium stage could contribute to the style and structure of the two key extracts chosen
e.g. quick transition of extracts, breaking of the fourth wall, direct address to the audience
- how the specified stage can be used to demonstrate engagement/interaction with audience e.g. positioning of characters at two key moments in chosen extracts.
- how and where, within the chosen extracts, the type of stage could contribute to the design concept
- choice of style with reasons, e.g. how it could be linked to specified stage, set and chosen extracts
- choice of set appropriate to the two key extracts chosen e.g. generic backdrop, floor cloth, levels etc.

- how colour is used to create mood and atmosphere in the chosen extracts
- the play is multi-locational therefore candidates may choose to have a simple, neutral stage and bring on appropriate props for the chosen scenes – making reference to the original staging style
- there are contrasting interior and exterior scenes and candidates may choose a generic floor cloth with some symbolic pattern to emphasise one of the themes e.g. love and hatred. Then they may use simple furniture – brought on by actors to signify the different scenes
- some candidates may choose to stage the balcony scene and will describe how they would create the balcony on their chosen stage using set and levels
- candidates may choose a very modern approach and have a graffiti back wall to symbolise the conflict in Verona and then create the various scenes in front of this symbolic background

Indicative content

The following are examples only and all valid alternatives should be considered and marked appropriately.

Answers may include

- an explanation of how a thrust stage or a proscenium stage could contribute to the style and structure of the two key extracts chosen
- e.g. quick transition of extracts, breaking of the fourth wall, direct address to the audience
- how the specified stage can be used to demonstrate engagement/interaction with audience e.g. positioning of characters at two key moments in chosen extracts.
- how and where, within the chosen extracts, the type of stage could contribute to the design concept
- choice of style with reasons, e.g. how it could be linked to specified stage, set and chosen extracts
- choice of set appropriate to the two key extracts chosen e.g. generic backdrop, floor cloth, levels etc.
- how set is used within the chosen extracts, including an awareness of how the type of stage will influence how it is used e.g. awareness of sight lines, where set is placed
- how colour is used to create mood and atmosphere in the chosen extracts
- the floor space surrounded on three sides by the audience could represent the large empty void at the beginning of the play. The level at the back of the stage could represent the park in Alex and Nia's memory. Positioning the memories on the back level away from the audience gives the idea that they are far way
- the set for the park could be detailed with swings, sand pit and a park bench, giving the impression of a detailed memory. The scene of the park could be enhanced with a projection of trees, flowers and a bright blue sky giving the audience the impression of a perfect summer's day
- as the memories constantly change the projections could accommodate and show the audience quickly where the various memories take place

Indicative content

Answers may include

- an explanation of how a thrust stage or a proscenium stage could contribute to the style and structure of the two key extracts chosen e.g. quick transition of extracts, breaking of the fourth wall, direct address to the audience
- how the specified stage can be used to demonstrate engagement/interaction with audience
- how and where, within the chosen extracts, the type of stage could contribute to the design concept
- choice of style with reasons, e.g. how it could be linked to specified stage, set and chosen extracts
- choice of set appropriate to the two key extracts chosen e.g. generic backdrop, floor cloth, levels etc.
- how set is used within the chosen extracts, including an awareness of how the type of stage will influence how it is used e.g. awareness of sight lines, where set is placed
- how colour is used to create mood and atmosphere in the chosen extracts.
- candidates may choose to use levels eg the office could be a lower level, the corridor could be depicted using a projection on a large screen high above the stage. This would be a strong visual image in keeping with one of the play's main theme "big brother is watching you". It would also act as the telescreen.
- the audience could be placed in front of the stage, and because the telescreen is placed above them they constantly have to look up at Big Brother
- the canteen could be more utilitarian with a large Formica table with chairs placed around it. It would also be important to have an empty chair at the top of the table to symbolise that SYME is absent, Parsons chair would be positioned next to it as he can give the impression he is talking naturally to SYME and hasn't noticed that he's not present.
