

ENTRY PATHWAYS QUALIFICATION IN PERSONAL PROGRESS

Why choose the Entry Pathways qualification in Personal Progress?

This qualification allows you to complete a choice of units covering a range of topics. The units are all coursework based, there is no need to sit written examinations. There are a range of units available all of which are at Entry 1. The Entry Pathways qualifications are inclusive, flexible and practical giving you the opportunity to develop, demonstrate and participate in a range of activities covering a range of topics.

What will I study?

The specification in Entry Pathways Personal Progress contains units that will enable you to gain an insight into a wide range of topics. There are a range of units to choose from, which allows you to develop skills from the topics that you have an interest in. The full list of units is available specification on the WJEC website.

ENTRY PATHWAYS QUALIFICATION IN PERSONAL PROGRESS?

What skills will I develop?

By studying units within the Entry Pathways Personal Progress qualification, skills developed could include:

- developing skills for the workplace
- developing communication skills
- developing writing skills
- developing IT skills
- developing independent living skills

These are just a selection of the skills that could be developed. There are a large number of units available, which would allow you to develop a range of other skills in your specific areas of interest.

How will I be assessed?

All units are coursework based; no written examination is required. In order to achieve a qualification in Entry Pathways Personal Progress, learners will have to accumulate credits, gained from completing various units.

These lead to (three sizes) of qualification:

Entry 1 Award (8 or more credits)

Entry 1 Certificate (14 or more credits)

Entry 1 Diploma (37 or more credits)

The list of units that contribute to these qualifications, along with their credit value can be found in the specification.

Careers with Entry Pathways qualification in Personal Progress

This qualification will build on subject content which you will have been taught at Key Stage 3 and will provide a foundation for other Entry Pathways qualifications and level 1 and 2 qualifications. This course also develops the skills and confidence you will need to leave school in preparation for the workplace.